Carelessness Aids Burglars Says D.A.

Burglary, one of the leading major crimes in Los Angeles County, could be greatly reduced if the carelessness of the average citizen could be overcome, District Attorney S. Ernest Roll said today, in urging home owners to take common sense precautions in safeguarding their property.

Speaker Cites Way to Peace In Christianity

The most potent program for genuine peace that the world can ever know is available today in the Lord's Prayer and the Sermon on the Mount, Richard Knox Lee of London, Eng., said in a Christian Science lecture here in the Civic Auditorium Monday evening.

"The basis of mankind's salvation can never be other than Christ's Christianity," Mr. Lee declared in calling for renewed dedication to pure Christianity. Christianity alone, he said, replaces the materialism responsible for mankind's problems with the spiritual understanding of God, Spirit, in which "lies the power which unifies, liberates, and heals."

Mr. Lee is on an extensive lecture tour as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship. He spoke under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Torrance. Mrs. Marjorie W. Boyd, second reader, introduced him. He spoke on the subject "Christian Science: The Supremacy of Spirit."

The spirit of the Lord's Prayer and the Sermon on the Mount "must eventually become the sole motivating power in the government of all the nations of the earth," Mrs. Lee said, "for peace and progress, to be permanent, must rest upon the supremacy of Spirit."

When it is universally understood that God is the source and substance of all reality—the infinite Spirit that created all and made it good—"men will no longer be taught or believe that there is an intelligence, presence, or power other than good, and the phenomenon of evil will disappear," he stated.

To illustrate the healing effect of such spiritual understanding, he told of a woman who was healed of blindness and dumbness simultaneously through Christian Science treatment after her case had been given up as hopeless. He also told of two children who, with advanced consumption, likewise given up as hopeless, who were completely healed through the understanding of God's law as taught in Christian Science. He added that both these cases were known personally to him.

Love of Power
He attributed mankind's accumulated problems to the fact that "for centuries, men have suffered the delusion that they can live, think, act, and prosper independently of God, who is the Life and Mind of man ... The human love of power has blinded men to the power of God's love."

Describing Jesus' career as illustrating the practical effects of the understanding of Spirit, God, as supreme, the lecturer said the Master "exposed the utter futility of belief in a power opposed to God."

The healing mission of Jesus was evidence, he declared, that spiritual ideas, based on recognition of God as the infinite, divine Mind, "overcome the stuporous so-called forces of ignorance, fear, greed, lust, anger, self-love, self-pity, self-will, and every other form of self-inflation that breeds disease, makes for war, and holds mankind in bondage."

God's Guidance
God's guidance, provision and protection, he continued, may readily be realized today by anyone who correctly utilizes the moral and spiritual qualities divinely bestowed on man by God. He said that such practical Christianity is taught and demonstrated by Christian Science, and he described the application of Christian Science in daily thinking and acting.

Recognition of man's spiritual origin, his likeness to God, "and his inalienable birthright of dominion over the belief in a consciousness other than good," is the standpoint from which Christian Science challenges all discord, he said.

Proof Offered
In explaining these healings, Mr. Lee said they were proof that "to understand God as the supreme creative Principle of being spiritualizes humanity and restores harmony and order. It reveals man's inseparability from Principle and so rules out sickness and eliminates sin."

"Jesus declared that the knowledge of Truth makes free," he added. "He was not concerned about physical symptoms. He prescribed no drugs; he gave no directions regarding diet or rest; he never advocated surgery or hygiene; but he did advise that

"As is the case with most criminal activity, burglary rates are affected by economic conditions and increased population. The district attorney pointed out: 'Effective police work, private patrols and well lighted streets have helped to keep down this type of crime in the metropolitan area, but despite these gains more than 34,000 Los Angeles County burglaries were reported last year.'

"Carelessness in adequately securing premises, according to a recent police department report, contributes greatly to burglary, particularly in the case of private homes where more than 80 per cent of such crimes occur. If every home owner would pay heed to the following hints on how to avoid or lessen the probability of becoming a victim of a burglary, the number of such crimes would be appreciably smaller:

1. Keep your doors locked when you are out of your home.
2. When you leave your home unoccupied for the evening, don't just leave the front room table lamp burning. Leave lights on in the bedroom and in the bathroom as well. For the same reason, burglars are afraid of bathroom lights. They are wise to the single flicker from the living room.
3. Do not hire any kind of help around the house without thoroughly checking into the background of the prospective employee. Many burglaries of large homes have been found to be inside jobs.
4. Rent a safe deposit box for very valuable articles. It is a cheap form of insurance.
5. If you go to the movies or drop in at a drugstore soda fountain during the evening, don't pay for your pleasure with a $20 bill. As a matter of common sense, don't flash large bills at any time. Some one may be watching you and follow you home and demand the change at the point of a gun.
6. If you go on a vacation or extended trip, arrange for someone to remove the tell-tale signs of non-occupancy from your home such as newspapers that accumulate on the lawn and milk bottles that line the porch.
7. Don't be the friendly type and open your door immediately to anyone who rings or knocks. Ask who is there if you cannot take a look.
8. If a panhandler asks for a handout or for money in a respectable residential neighborhood, especially if he comes to your door, notify the police. It is a good bet that he is only looking the premises or the neighborhood over with a view to burglary.
9. If you possibly can, keep a dog with no bite but lots of bark and a sharp ear. He can embarrass a burglar more than you can.
10. Remember that the law enforcement agencies are ready to protect you. Don't try to be a one-man police force. Yell out or use your telephone and not your fist or a gun. It is better to be discreet and live than to be a tough customer and get shot.

It is well to be especially watchful during winter months, the district attorney advised, for burglaries occur almost twice as often from November to March than during the summertime.

ing less thought for food and raiment, and he did say, 'Bin no more, lest we were thing come unto thee,' thus indicating the mental nature of disease." God's law is equally applicable to economic problems, he said, stating that "riches and poverty, plenty and want, are but extremes of the better than matter supplies the necessities of life ... If with Christian understanding and true desire we lift our thought Spiritward and act with full confidence in divine supply of spiritual ideas as did Jesus ... we too will find Spirit's infinite resources meeting our human need."
